CLAUDE BOYTON, HEARTY WELCOME TO BISHOP RHODE

Miniature Showman Knows How, and He Gets There, Too.

SOME OF HIS CLEVER CONCEITS THAT PRESAGE A FUTURE FOR THE INDUSTRIOUS LITTLE CHAP WITH THE INVENTIVE TURN OF MIND.

The severe burning of the hands of Claude Boyton, of the church, of Captain Paul Boyton manager of Steeplechase Island, last week brought to light a most remarkable attitude toward the amusement business rarely shown in a child of his age. It was while Claude was imitating the Hellfishes that his complete miniature circus with every feature produced this season at Steeplechase was brought to light.

He was busy with an array of leaden soldiers whom he had clad in paper and immersed in gasoline to imitate the Hellfishes dive into the burning tank that his hands were severely burned and the reasons for his occupation discovered.

On his return from Florida where his family had cruised in their yacht Water Gypsy, Claude found himself in possession of several young alligators, docile animals and as he very soon found out, easily to be taught. The diving horses arrived at Steeplechase and Claude started his circus. He had a hole about three feet in diameter in the sand near the house boat. Here he duplicated the slide the horses take and it was in a short time that he had diving alligators taking a five foot plunge into the tank city. Practising them every day he managed to keep his one act circus going until Valiente's leopard came along.

This was an extraordinary feat and so appropriating the house boat and dog pilot to threaten it in case of stubbornness, Claude imitated the tricks of the leopard and he was from Pennsylvania and kept in front of the island office were presented to the lad by his father and with these as a boxing act he gave a complete circus last week on the island for the benefit of the youngsters living there. Assisted by Willie Paul his aid in the training and several of the Holy Cross students who live at the island for advancement and the like Boyton and Paul's circus was held. The ingenuity and imagination of the child is wonderful and his feats are always astonishing the people of the island. The environment and opportunities for play he enjoys are a child's paradise. With his parents and several of his older brother college chums he lives on the house boat. His actions are not impeded and the mechanical force of the island are at his disposal to carry out his plans. In all building, however, Claude is in his building, however, Claude is in his own manufacturer and with a handful of rusty nails and his sailors' jack knife he manages to duplicate everything from "chaise longue" to the more daring stunts brought to the island.

POLISH CATHOLICS TURNED OUT EN MASSE TO GREET DIG-NITARY.

The Right Reverend Paul Rhode, auxiliary bishop of Chicago, after dedicating a new church in Chicago, Mass., yesterday morning, came to this city in the afternoon, to visit the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, which is the Roman Catholic house of worship for the Polish people of this city. The bishop was escorted to this city from Springfield, Mass., by a number of priests from that city, and was met at the station by a band and a mounted guard of honor, and several societies of the church. The bishop proceeded over Stratford avenue to East Main street and then to Sterling street on which the church is located. The church was a pretty, decorated, the pillars being entwined with evergreen.

Bishop Rhode preached the sermon of the evening at 8 o'clock, in spite of the rapidity with which the Polish people of this country had adapted themselves to the existing conditions here and he congratulated them on their making. He congratulated Father Baran, the pastor, and his parishioners on the beautiful structure which they had erected and a place of worship. He gave benediction at solemn vespers in the evening.

Bishop Rhode, who is the vicar-general of the Chicago diocese which number over 250,000 Polish Catholics, celebrated mass this morning in St. Michael's church and left the city at noon for New Haven from where he will go to Derby, Riverhead, L. L. Brooklyn and Rochester, N. Y. After dedicating a church in the last named city, he will conclude his eastern tour for Chicago.

Greenwich Split up Over Gift of Land

Greenwich, July 25.—The proposed gift of a small triangular piece of land by Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer, to be maintained as a park, to the borough of Greenwich, has divided the city into two factions. One wants to accept the gift and another which declares that it shall not be accepted. The borough is a small town, but the matter to a meeting of the voters. The explanation of all the trouble is that Mrs. Havemeyer some time ago offered to give the land to the borough as a site for a post office at a price smaller than other bidders asked for a tract of equal size, but her offer was made with the proviso that the tract adjoining should be accepted by the borough as a park. Inasmuch as the proposed park and post office are remote from that part of the town where most of the business is located the people say that they will be put to great expense and the merchants complain that their business will be hurt.

(Special from United Press.) Butler, Pa., July 25.—The strike at the Standard Steel Car Company was ended this morning. When the whistle blew at 7 o'clock this morning more than 2,000 men were back at work. Seven of the strike leaders were discharged. MANUFACTURER KILLED SHOT AT GIRL THEN KILLED SELF

(Special from United Press.) New York, July 25.—After firing at Clara Zeener, 13, a cloak maker, because she spurned his love, Carl Lefkowitz turned a revolver against himself and fired two shots, from the effects of which he died twenty minutes later. When the girl learned that he was dead, she attempted to leap from a window on the third floor of the building where the tragedy occurred. No. 359 East 8th street. She was restrained and then made an effort to drink poison. A policeman was guarding her to prevent her from killing herself. Miss Zeener and Lefkowitz worked together in a sweat shop. They were to have been married. But the girl was ambitious. She took up dress-making and later accepted a position as a model. She prospered. Miss Zeener grew cold to Lefkowitz. Today she refused to marry him and the shooting followed.

Wrights Ready for Official Test Tonight

(Special from United Press.) Washington, July 25.—The Wright brothers today informed General Allen, chief of the Signal Corps of the army, that they would be ready to make their first official test of their airplane at 8 o'clock this evening. One of the officers of the Signal Corps, either Lieutenant Foulis or Lieutenant Lahm, will accompany the Wrights on the flight which will take place over the parade grounds at Fort Myer. This test will be for endurance, a flight of one hour with two men aboard, without alighting. If tonight's test is successful it is likely that the trial for a straight-away flight to Alexandria and return will be made tomorrow night. On this flight in order to obtain the contract price of $25,000 from the government, the machine must make a speed of 40 miles an hour. For every mile less than that, down to 35, the Wrights will forfeit ten per cent. of the prize. For every mile above 40 and up to 44 they will receive a bonus of ten per cent. To meet the requirements of the government a speed of at least 44 miles an hour must be made.

Insurance Man in Jail, $10,000 Fraud Charge

New Haven, July 25.—Lambin A. Weishandel, until last February, assistant superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of Dover, Del., was arrested here at the home of his mother-in-law, charged with the embezzlement of $10,000 from the company and is now in jail awaiting requisition papers from Delaware. The arrest was made by Constable Sturtevant of Highwood, who has been watching the house where the man's wife and daughter have been staying for four months. Weishandel, who is 39 years old, wrote policies for his company and then, it is alleged, sent in false notices of the death of his clients.

Last February, it is charged, he handed in papers certifying to the death of a man who was known personally to another agent of the company, who at once reported the alleged fraud to the office. Weishandel left town.

Shortly after the disappearance Mrs. Weishandel accompanied by her daughter, came to New Haven, and since that time has been staying with her mother. Her arrest Weishandel admitted his guilt, the constable says, and talked freely on the case. Sturtevant will get a reward of $100 for his capture.

MOTHER IN JAIL DAUGHTER IN TEARS

Louise, the fourteen year old daughter of Mrs. Mary Kelly of 10 Congress street, sat in the City court this morning while judgment was passed on her mother, sentencing her to 20 days in jail as the result of a social feast at her house last evening. The young girl was crying pitifully and Judge Foster immediately decided that something should be done for the child. Frequent fights and brawls have marred her home life worse than none at all, and she is able to sympathize with her mother. The court had voted to throw upon the Charities department. After court adjourned Louise was removed to the Lakeview Home where she will remain for a week while commitment papers to a suitable home for her are made out. An elder sister, Elizabeth, aged 18, was in the court but she is able to shift for herself. Charles J. Swift, was sentenced to 20 days and fined $1 and costs. He was arrested as the aggressor of the squabble which is known in police circles as Knapp and has the reputation of being a bad actor. He has served a sentence in the State's prison.

(By Staff Correspondent of the United Press.) Ntirobi, British East Africa, July 25.—Professor Edmund Heller arrived today from Naivasha, bringing with him almost a carload of the famous specimens killed by Colonel Roosevelt and Kermit.
